EXPERIENCE

Producer, Founder // Kinda Sorta Almost 2023 - Present

• Create and develop original content, and build brands and activation strategy around them, moving concepts off the screen into festivals and location-based products for partners including Major League Baseball, ESPN, and Apple
• Direct multidisciplinary creative teams and agency partners, working alongside Academy Award winners, and own scope, budget, workback scheduling, delivery, legal, and business affairs coordination on every engagement
• Write and present pitch and executive materials in Keynote and InDesign, translating a creative concept into something a room of decision makers with competing priorities want to approve

Picture Editor // Freelance 2019 - 2023

• Led post pipelines for streaming, linear, and digital series for The Pokémon Company, Warner Bros. Discovery, TLC, and A+E Networks. Full credits available upon request
• Held brand tone under real constraint: franchise brand guidelines, standards and practices, legal review, and creative notes across multiple rounds of delivery to executive stakeholders from major studios, agencies, and distributors
• Delivered to distinct platform specs across streaming, linear, and digital, working to each distributor's technical and editorial requirements, and utilizing cutting-edge technology in video production

Creative Producer // Freelance 2012 - 2019

• Led creative strategy and franchise IP from first idea, through development, production, post production, and delivery
• Oversaw cross-functional creative teams of varying sizes (6-20), owning budgets, schedules, staffing, and vendor relationships across concurrent productions, managing teams in development, production, and post production simultaneously
• Pitched original concepts and strategy to major stakeholders in streaming and linear television, created formats and pitch materials using Adobe InDesign, Avid Media Composer, and any other necessary creative software for production
